

QUINN CONYERS

Introduction as Speaker of Event:

Quinn Conyers is taking the nation by storm as an in demand speaker at high schools, colleges and conferences. In 2005 she started her own business, Speak2Society LLC a speaking firm specializing in entrepreneurship and public speaking for youth and young adults. Since then she has been traveling to places like Hawaii, Texas, Florida, Canada and North Carolina delivering her powerful message.

Currently Quinn has expanded her speaking business as one of the youngest adjunct professors at Coppin State University where she teaches Speech Communications. She also hosts her own talk show profiling and empowering young women in the areas of personal style, entrepreneurship and creative expression.

Quinn earned a Bachelor's degree from West Chester University in PA and a Master's from Howard University in Washington D.C. As a result of her achievements, she has been featured in several magazines, newspapers and a frequent guest on radio, talk and news shows like FOX 5 News. She was featured in Black Enterprise, Essence and Young Money Magazines. She was also highlighted in the Washington Informer, District Chronicles, Baltimore Times and the AFRO newspapers.
