To Whom It May Concern:

When you are looking for someone that can help translate your message across the various spectrums of business capacity, think of Quinn Conyers; from the moment we met there was synergy!!! Quinn brings with her a contagious energy that ignites the fire in the trenches of someone's ambiance. Her passion and commitment to small businesses and entrepreneurs is easily seen and felt from her one-on-one consultation to her speaking delivery.

The Women's Business Center of Charlotte brought Quinn on to work with women in one of our Signature Programs "The Women of Prestige, Purpose & Power" aka "WOP3" as a Public Speaking coach to assist the Women with delivering a graduation pitch presentation. Quinn's ability to immediately connect with the graduates was evident in their level of comfortability with her and was seen at the execution of the pitch the day of graduation.

Working with Quinn was easy, fun, and delightful; her professional demeanor and can do attitude set the stage for a successful and memorable event. The information she shared empowered the women with tools that enhanced their capacity as small business owners and provided them with a resource that can be pulled from their treasure chest for years to come.

We love working with Quinn and highly recommend her as a Professional Development Business Coach and Speaker. She has the ability to command the room and make others take notice; at the WBCC Quinn has been put classified as one of our top 10 SME Resource Providers.

Thank you Quinn we look forward to our next encounter!
